Stayed here for just one night, but enjoyed it thoroughly. Though located in the heart of Nairobi, it was pretty quiet. The friendly staff ensured quick check-in and room allotment was immediate. The room was cozy and very clean. The dinner and breakfast were good. The swimming pool though could do with some attention. Overall, no complaints.

Just an overnighner here before we started our safari, arrived very late but they kept the bar open for a bit so we could have a drink and wind down after the 9hr flight from London. Really lovely staff, comfortable rooms and a decent shower.

The ambience is out of this world. It is suitable for all occasions. Be it a quiet business meeting, an evening outing with your loved ones, a party with friends, a wedding, team building and any other occasion it will certainly suit you. I recently went for a meeting and really liked it and told myself I have to take my family there for dinner someday. Try it and you will not regret it.
